

LASNI METHMA PEIRIS

Methma is currently doing the role of teaching assistant to the year one class at Perth Sinhala School held in Leeming Senior High school on every Sunday. Also, she teaches as a relief teacher in the school. She works as an OSHC educator in Camp Australia from 2017. Before moving to Australia, she was employed for more than three years as a Human Resources Executive by multinational organizations. She was an active member of school language societies during her school days. Methma Graduated from Institute of Personnel Management Sri Lanka as a Professional Human Resource Personnel in 2010. Also, she completed a Post Graduate qualification in Labour Law and Human Resources Management from University of Colombo, Faculty of Graduate Studies in 2015

Methma moved to Perth, Australia in 2016, after getting married to a full time IT professional. She found her-self interesting not only to get touch with different Sri Lankan societies but also to engage with various cultures, professionals, ethnicities and experiences while exploring potential relationships with people from different backgrounds. She voluntarily works at MSWA as an Office Supporter. She always wanted to be a teacher and she honors the opportunity given to be a language teacher for children. She has a great passion to work with little Children and after working with little ones for nearly two years now, she is looking forward to get more qualifications in education.
